

Business Analyst - Job description

The opportunity

We have a unique opportunity for a talented individual to join a fast growing start-up. You will start as a business analyst, will be working in the delivery team to provide insights and recommendations to our clients: some of the biggest retailers in the world.

Amoobi is a flourishing and growing company, looking for the best employees to help us facilitate a revolution in retail, by optimizing store and category layouts to customer behaviour. Amoobi is a leading international provider of in-store optimization based on customer behavior data, through the use of various technologies offering new data sources (people tracking via automated camera analytics, etc.) and our staff's retail expertise. Our projects vary from concept store improvement, store estate clustering, customer service optimization, store in store business cases, store performance check-ups, category reviews and many more. We provide not just data analytics, but add value by interpreting the data and helping our clients convert these insights into strategic actions. We work with top retailers in Grocery, Consumer Goods, DIY and Electronics: Walmart Group, Tesco Group, IKEA, Media Markt, Carrefour, Delhaize, Metro Group amongst others.

Your fit with Amoobi's culture is a key success factor to join the team. At Amoobi, we strive to provide industry leading quality in everything we do. We reach that through our commitment to support our fellow co-workers and to deliver the best insights for our clients. Above everything, we focus on the team and our ability to progress together while having FUN. To apply to Amoobi, consider how you can bring fun to the team and help us deliver high quality insights, via an extraordinary commitment to the team and to our mission.

As part of the Delivery team of an innovative scale-up company, you will be required to bring your creativity and new ideas to contribute to the development of Amoobi.

Due to the significant increase of demand for our expertise, we are looking for a new colleague to deliver our analysis on customer site or at Amoobi premises. The successful candidate will be able to transform the data into meaningful insights that will allow the retailer to take action to increase sales and/or reduce costs. To do so the analyst will be able to process the data into our analytical software (Tableau) to manage the creation of dashboards and reports, and to articulate actionable recommendations in front of the customer, while being perceived as knowledgeable for the retailer customer.

Desired Skills and Experience

The ideal candidate will have the following experience:

- You have between 2-5 years' experience in a retail analytical environment
- Retail experience is mandatory
- You have a strong analytical skill set with the ability to understand the problems and to present key findings & actionable recommendations
- You have the ability to quickly understand, challenge and work with data & metrics

The ideal candidate will also possess the following skills:

- Good knowledge of Tableau software or advanced level in Excel is mandatory
- strong analytical skills with attention to detail
- Problem-solving & continuous improvement mindset
- Well-structured and organized with the capacity to adopt a helicopter view
- Excellent oral and written communication skills (English and French is mandatory, any additional language is a plus): able to present to all levels within the organization as well as customers
- Excellent interpersonal skills
- Stress resistant, able to work on tight deadlines
- Customer-oriented
- Quick learner
- Ability to work independently
- Master's degree preferred.

Finally, the candidate should share our company values:

- Strong commitment to quality
- Team player
- Work hard & play hard
- Commitment to deliver
- Honesty

To apply

Send your CV and a short note about why you think you are the right candidate.

Email : jobs@amoobi.com